Nordicity consortium wins Trinidad and Tobago contract in spectrum monitoring and management

OTTAWA — April 10, 2004 — The Ministry of Public Administration and Information of Trinidad and Tobago has selected Nordicity Group Ltd. (NGL) and PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) to assist them in the development of their spectrum monitoring and management system. For this project, NGL and PwC have formed a consortium that includes Stanzar Inc., based in Montreal, Quebec; and Strategic Wireless Inc., based in Oakville, Ontario.

The project has three principal components: (1) Monitoring Project: Capture and analysis of occupancy data in the 88MHz – 3GHz bands; (2) Economic analysis of spectrum; (3) Preparation of the Frequency Allocation Table Design of a permanent monitoring system and preparation of the tender documentation.

The project is scheduled to be completed before September 30, 2004.
